

Did you know that right here in Brown County, 1 in 3 households are just one unexpected event away from not being able to meet their basic needs?

Whether it's a health issue, lack of childcare, mental health challenges, or no reliable transportation—many working individuals and families are constantly walking a tightrope.

Maybe that sounds like someone you know. Maybe that is you. Brown County United Way is working every day to change that by supporting individuals, strengthening systems, and advocating for policies that make life more stable for everyone in our community.

When you give through your workplace campaign, you're not just donating, you're investing in real solutions that help our neighbors, coworkers, caregivers, and service providers stay on their feet and keep showing up.

Together, we can build a stronger, more resilient community— one where more of us can thrive.
